MISS NANNIE SMITH, daughter of Dr. W. H. Smith, formerly of this city, who has been spending several weeks in Richmond as the guest of friends, is now in Norfolk, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Abner Pope, on Graydon Avenue, for the remainder of the winter. Several very attractive admirers were given for Miss Smith during her stay in Richmond.

Of Interest Here.

The marriage of Miss Jean Duncan Watts, daughter of the late J. Allen Watts, and a granddaughter of the late Colonel William Watts, one of the most distinguished and bravest officers of the Confederacy, and Abner Penn Staples, Jr., took place in Roanoke at the home of the bride's mother, Thursday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated in branches of white flowers and with bright red ribbon, and holly and cedar were used in draping the doorway and in the hall. In the parlor, where the ceremony was performed, the mantels were banked in white flowers and lighted candles, tied with love knots of white tulle. The improvised altar was arranged with palms and quantities of narcissus. Mrs. Lamar Lipscombe, of Washington, played the wedding march. Mrs. William Watts attended the bride as dam of honor and wore an imported gown of white chiffon, embroidered in silver. She carried a bouquet of La France roses. Hunt Staples, of Petersburg, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The bride entered with her brother, William Watts, who also gave her away. She wore a handsome traveling suit of brown cloth, with hat and furs to match. Her ornaments were the pearls worn by her mother and grandmother at their weddings, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

At the reception which followed the ceremony Mrs. Lipscombe presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. Lipscombe, of Washington. Serving in the dining-room were Misses Mary Stuart Cooke, Mary Peyton, of Charlottesville; Mrs. de Moss Taylor, Lule Dillard, of Rocky Mount, Va.; Sarah Cox and Mary Churchill.

Mr. and Mrs. Staples left at once for a Northern trip, and on their return will be at home in Roanoke.

The Sunday Afternoon.

The meeting of the Council of Jewish Women, scheduled for last Tuesday, was postponed on account of the very inclement weather, and the Senior Council and Junior Council will meet together Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the schoolroom of Beth Anshah Temple.

Dr. William H. Taylor will deliver his lecture on "The Chemistry of the House," and Miss Marie Hessberg will give a piano solo.

The Charity Ball.

The Girls' Auxiliary of the Belle Bryan Day Nursery will give a big "Charity Ball" in the Jefferson Hotel on February 22. The ball will be opened with a minuet, in which a number of prominent girls will dance. Most of the women prominent in society here will act as patronesses, and it will be a very brilliant affair, coming, as it will, at the close of the winter's gaieties.

To Meet Wednesday.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Richmond Education Association on Wednesday afternoon, January 11, at 1:15 o'clock, in room 115 of the John Marshall High School.

To Lecture This Morning.

Dr. Max Eastman, of New York, who arrived yesterday to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Valentine, will, through the courtesy of the dean of the Medical College of Virginia, give a talk at half-past 10 o'clock this morning in the college auditorium to the students of that institution and also to those of the University College of Medicine and Richmond College.

For Miss Cohen.

Ben Spiegel, of Norfolk, entertained very charmingly Wednesday evening in honor of her new guests, Misses Rose Cohen, of Richmond; Esther Spiegel, of Bedford City, and Miss Sara Feldman, of Salisbury, N. C. The room was decorated in palms and pink flowers, and Miss Irene Pass and Sara Feldman presided at the punch bowl.

Dabney-Segars.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette A. Lewis, in Hampton, was the scene of a beautiful marriage Saturday, December 31, when Miss Lotta Simpkins Segars was united in marriage to Frederick A. Dabney. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Pendleton Jones, of the Hampton Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pearson entertained at tea Thursday afternoon in honor of the approaching nuptials.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Ashton Lewis gave a reception to the wedding party. After a wedding trip North, Mr. and Mrs. Dabney will reside in Richmond.

KNOCKED DOWN WITH BRICK.

Well-Known Resident of Durham County Seriously Injured.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Durham, N. C., January 6.—Mr. C. Jones, one of the best known residents of Durham county, was fatally injured to-day at his store at Blibon, about three miles from this city, as a result of a difficulty with Pink Johnson, a tenant on the farm of Mr. Jones.

The trouble started several days ago, it is alleged, when Johnson began the trouble was raised. Upon entering the store, it is claimed that Johnson began his abuse of Mr. Jones, and the latter left the store, and in a few minutes returned with a brick, which he hurled with terrific force at Mr. Jones, knocking him down and rendering the injured man unconscious. He was brought to this city and taken to the

GREENBURG RELEASED.

Not Enough Evidence to Hold Him on Charge of Burning His Store.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Durham, N. C., January 6.—Arthur Greenburg, who was arrested last Saturday afternoon, charged with firing his 5 and 10-cent store on East Main Street, was released this afternoon, after one of the hardest fought cases in the history of the Durham record.

The case, it became evident Wednesday that evidence offered by the State was not sufficient to hold a man on the charge of setting fire to his store. After all the evidence had been produced, and attorneys for both sides had made their arguments, Recorder R. H. Kent visited the scene of the fire, and after due deliberation released Mr. Greenburg.

The case has been one of the most sensational of the history of Durham, and the fact that Mr. Greenburg is exonerated from all blame for the fire has created a strong sentiment in his favor.

The members made an appropriation for the maintenance of a room in the Home for Needy Confederate Women in Richmond, and also made a contribution for the New Year's dinner of the five Rockingham veterans now at the Old Soldiers' Home. The service entertained by Mrs. L. J. Golden.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Residence of W. E. Spence at Buena Vista, Is Burned.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Buena Vista, Va., January 6.—At 2 o'clock this morning the second area within a week destroyed about $1,500 worth of property. The fire was discovered in the house of W. E. Spence, who lives in the lower end of the city. The fire department responded as quickly as possible, but on account of the equipment being crippled by the fire of last Saturday, it was somewhat handicapped. When discovered, the fire was under such headway that it was impossible to save anything except the lives of the inmates of the house.

Mr. Spence was at work at the paper mill, and Mrs. Spence, who was alone in the house with her children, had to be taken out of a window. The house was valued at $1,000, with $500 insurance. The furniture was valued at $200, with $200 insurance.

Coming so quickly on the $12,000 fire of last Saturday morning, the people of the city firmly believe that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Thieves Then Entered Hardware Store and Made Rich Hit.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Goldsboro, N. C., January 6.—For the eighth time during the past two years the hardware store of T. H. Stanton & Co. was again robbed early this morning, and a large quantity of shotguns, pistols and knives were stolen. The thieves broke the large show window and secured the above articles, which were on display. Police think the robbers stood some distance from the store and threw a large stone or brickbat at the show window, and when satisfied that the noise of breaking glass had attracted no attention then helped themselves to the above articles.

PUSH FRISCO LINE ON TO LOS ANGELES

B. F. Yoakum Announces That Surveys Have Already Been Made From Texas.

RIVAL TO HARRIMAN LINES

St. Paul Alliance in Northwest and Mexican Arrangements to Make Gigantic System.

Los Angeles, Cal., January 6.—The extension of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad to the Pacific coast at this city turns out to be the purpose of the recent visit of Percy Rockefeller, son of William Rockefeller, and President A. J. Earling, of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad to the Southwest.

B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the board of directors of the St. Louis and San Francisco, who is here, said that an extension from Quanah, Tex., to Brownsville, was projected, and surveys had been completed. With the apportionment between the St. Louis and San Francisco and the St. Paul, there already is a line to the North Pacific Coast, and the new plan will open the way to rivalry with the Harriman lines in the South.

The St. Louis and San Francisco at present has a line from St. Louis, Chicago and Kansas City to Galveston, and another line from New Orleans to Houston, via the Rio Grande River, paralleling the Gulf of Mexico to the Mexican boundary. Through an understanding with the Mexican government, a new road will be constructed in Mexico from Matamoros, opposite Brownsville, to Tampico, and the Tampico-Mexico City line will be completed by the National Railroads of Mexico.

The Yoakum properties thus will be in a strong and dominating position upon the extension of the line to the Atlantic side in connection with the National Railroads of Mexico. The projected extension from Quanah to this city will provide the Frisco with a South Pacific port. The traffic agreement with the St. Paul will enable the movement of grain from the North as well as iron and steel from the Great Lakes to Los Angeles, for shipment to the Orient and to Pacific ports in Mexico, Central America and South America.

Mr. Yoakum said that two surveys have been made from Quanah, one by the St. Louis and San Francisco, and the other through Phoenix, Ariz. He said the route will be the shortest from St. Louis, Chicago and Kansas City to the Texas coast, and will be a direct route from Memphis, Tenn., to New Orleans, and the St. Louis and San Francisco will have a short line from St. Louis, Chicago and Memphis to New Orleans, and from New Orleans, via the Gulf Coast line, to Brownsville, Tex., and Mexico.

The St. Louis and San Francisco proposes being a potential rival to the Harriman lines and the Santa Fe in the traffic to and from Los Angeles. It is understood that Mr. Yoakum has an understanding with the National Railroad of Mexico for a free interchange of freight.
